

What is EnviroKlenz?

Everyday we are exposed to a wide range of pollutants, chemicals, and airborne particulates where we live and work. Treatment methods often focus on just one aspect of improving air quality or allergen reduction.

With EnviroKlenz products, you can take matters into your own hands!

EnviroKlenz Products Are:

*Safe
Non-toxic
Fragrance free
Environmentally friendly
Advanced technology
Environmental sensitivity trigger elimination*

Our patented technology is based on the use of environmentally safe natural earth minerals. Our proprietary manufacturing processes converts them into an active form while retaining all their safe characteristics and benefits. This process increases the surface area which in turn greatly enhances the "Adsorptive Neutralization" abilities of the materials against a broad spectrum of chemical triggers.

EnviroKlenz Mobile Air Systems Removes:

*Chemical Pollution
Fragrances
Airborne Particles
Odors*

Remember: When the goal is to remove chemicals, pollutants, and odors it is counter productive to be introducing new chemicals into the air.

"Indoor air pollution is a major health problem today. There are often more harmful pollutants inside a home than outside

"EnviroKlenz products can be lifesavers for anyone who needs or wants to live in a home free from toxic chemical exposures. They destroy a broad spectrum of toxic chemicals, including fragrance, tobacco smoke, and pesticides.

"I have conducted an independent review of the materials used to make EnviroKlenz products, and found them to meet my standards to be considered toxic free. Not only are the products themselves toxic free, they can make your home more toxic free as well."

About the EnviroKlenz System of Products

The creation of EnviroKlenz was inspired by our Customers with Multiple Chemical Sensitivities (MCS). We have been honored to be able to work closely with them and learn from their experience and feedback. Through their recommendations we were able to introduce a product line that is both effective and safe for everyone—especially individuals dealing with environmental sensitivity triggers.

We have worked vigorously and diligently to test our products with MCS influencers and support groups to provide “Personal Environmental Protection for Everyone.” We look forward to continuing our work with those affected by Multiple Chemical Sensitivities, to provide resources and products that will help overcome the challenges of living in our toxic world.

For individuals with MCS, many chemicals and substances with strong scents are the most common triggers for their symptoms and can include: VOCs, perfumes, cleaning agents, pesticides, cigarette smoke, among many others.

EnviroKlenz products are designed to address these types of pollutants and fragrances while simultaneously not introducing any new chemical triggers.

“Great products, really helped me get rid of some tough odors that were lingering around in my home as of now the odors have yet to return and I react very well to these products. Thank you once again for providing a safe product that does a fantastic job!” - Mary
