

Product Overview

Premium Powdered Minerals

TERRAMIN is a natural, premium-grade mineral supplement that comes from a rare, ultra-clean, clay-mineral source in the Southwestern US. It is extracted from a pristine, arid subsurface mine along the Colorado River delta. This compound is part of a mineral “species” called Calcium Montmorillonite (aka: Calcium Bentonite, Smectite, hydrated magnesium/alumina silicate) that is found in ion-active, high-quality condition in only a few places on earth.

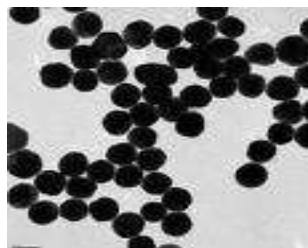

Our premium mineral compound is called ION-MIN, which is a special composite of Calcium Montmorillonite. ION-MIN is a trademarked ingredient form of Montmorillonite with naturally occurring bio-available colloidal minerals. What makes our compound superior is the purity of the source material, the extreme fineness of the nano-sized colloids, the powerful negative ionic charge, a natural high PH level, the abundance of silica, and a balanced portfolio of health-providing minerals in their natural form, that are ready to remove toxins from your body and provide essential mineral nutrients.

Unique Element

The mineral ingredient, ION-MIN does two important things simultaneously. First it acts as a powerful, natural detoxification agent in several environments: inside the body, within waterways, and in the soil. Second, it enriches its surroundings with a unique balance of macro-micro and trace minerals that are electrically exchanged with the positively charged particles that diminish your body’s health. ION-MIN re-mineralizes by exchanging minerals for toxins such as certain heavy metals, and pathogenic agents that diminish good health by taxing your immune system and causing premature aging. Plus it contains one special mineral called silica within its natural state. Silica is used by your body to metabolize other minerals such as calcium and cellular structures such as collagen. Because most people in the US and industrialized countries do not get enough silica in their modern diet, they cannot utilize some of the minerals they do ingest. ION-MIN contains 55% natural, extremely- fine particle (colloidal) silica.

Terramin Clay

Microscopic View Colloidal Silica

Live Healthy

Clues from Wildlife

When animals in the wild are sick, they possess the seemingly universal ability to seek treatment from the “healing clays”, along river banks, in caves, exposed surface deposits, “mineral licks”, glaciers, or runoffs. They have an advantage over humans in that they instinctively sense how certain healing minerals can detoxify and mend their bodies. They don’t know why they need minerals from these special pure clays, they just know what they need, where to find it, and when to ingest it. They eat the minerals directly from clean, clay deposits because they simply cannot get the therapeutic quantities needed by simply eating botanicals.

At California Earth Minerals, Inc. we believe this is a lesson for everyone. We should always try to eat healthy; but we all need regular bio-available mineral supplements in an active form to keep our bodies mineralized and strong. By getting your daily mineral boost from a clean, potent, premium edible living clay, like TERRAMIN, you get “the ultimate daily health supplement”.

Self-Mineralization

Animals have another advantage...most of them live in a natural, wild condition. By living in their “free range” habitat undomesticated wild life are a part of their environment. Their mental and biological stress levels are lower, and their food chain is enriched. But humans live mainly in man-made structures within cities where we are exposed to unnatural substances: toxins, poisons and electromagnetic interference that disrupt our immune systems and sap our vitality. We eat highly processed foods, often from depleted soils. Our food supply is mixed with preservatives, insecticides, pesticides, herbicides, fungicides, chemical fertilizers, and synthetic hormones. In some cases, our bodies must endure genetically modified substances and foods treated with irradiation.

But among the most damaging of all assaults on our bodies is stress. This is one reason wild animals are rarely sick, and are better able to heal themselves when they do become ill. Caged and domesticated animals are more disease-prone and experience shorter lives; they share many debilitating diseases with humans.

The TERRAMIN Solution

TERRAMIN provides a safe, convenient way to eliminate stored toxins from your body and at the same time supply it with needed macro, micro and trace minerals in their most natural and original form. Taken in either tablet or powder form, this effective product provides the stabilizing, regenerative agent that more and more people are taking every day to stay healthy.

For decades, Calcium Montmorillonite has been regarded by the FDA as “generally recognized as safe”. It acts within the body in two phases. The first is a fast-acting stage, in which it immediately attracts and adheres to toxic and bacterial substances that attack and weaken your body. TERRAMIN acts like a magnet to draw in stubborn microbes and toxins that need to be eliminated. Malicious substances are absorbed and removed naturally. Second is a long-term effect. Taken regularly and in measured portions, it continues to remove heavy metals that are attached to the stomach lining, colon, and other organs to maintain a healthy balance of good bacteria. At the same time, it continually feeds the body and blood stream with minerals needed for healthy body function.

Because it contains the exclusive trademarked natural compound ION-MIN, TERRAMIN provides the optimal particle size of Montmorillonite available, and contains a highly bio-available mix of colloidal, active minerals.

NASA came to us for help in preserving the health of our astronauts. NASA's manned space center worked with our products to determine how to resolve the rapid osteoporosis that astronauts encounter in extended zero-gravity space flights. Their scientists conducted extensive studies of our ION-MIN compound, including comprehensive tests on animals experiencing calcium depletion similar to space conditions. Their studies proved that consuming ION-MIN actually increased bone density and muscle tissue; whereas those that were given a typical calcium supplement showed no improvement or bone loss! ION-MIN was shown to catalyze the body to stimulate healthy bone mass retention and tissue strength.

TERRAMIN Meets Federal Guidelines for consumers choosing dietary supplements:
Manufactured in the United States of America following standards practiced by the nutrition supplement and organics industries.

Only Clay That NASA Approved for Use for Astronauts in Space is Terramin

Balanced Source

TERRAMIN's active ionic state, along with its presentation of 57 macro, micro and trace minerals in bio-available form combine to deliver astounding benefits in as little as four weeks. Our natural formula provides or exceeds RDA for many important minerals.

TERRAMIN is the only mineral supplement brand proven in federal, state, and university studies to improve the growth and vitality of birds, fish, vegetables, and livestock.

Safe and Economical

TERRAMIN is all natural, non-allergenic, kosher, non-toxic, and safe to consume. Its elements do not accumulate in your body. In fact it will immediately begin to adsorb and absorb toxins that do not belong in your body. There are no known adverse drug interactions with this product. There are no known side effects, and the product does not create physiological dependency when taken regularly for long periods of time.

Just as with water-soluble vitamins and minerals in foods, your body will use what it needs and discard the rest. The amount and frequency of consumption depends on your body weight and the level of health you are trying to achieve. For best results, take TERRAMIN between, not with meals or two hours between taking other supplements.

Because it can absorb positively charged pharmaceuticals, if you are taking prescription medications or are pregnant, you should consult a medical practitioner before taking TERRAMIN. If you are taking TERRAMIN for detoxification or other therapy, please consult the care of a medical or natural health practitioner.